

University of Tsukuba attended the Study Japan! Fair 2014 in Berlin

Opening remarks from Ambassador Miyashita at the Japanese Embassy

The University of Tsukuba delegation, consisting of administrative staff and a former exchange student, gave introductory presentations about our University and answered questions from German students at our booth.

Our former exchange student, whose age is close to that of the visiting German students, explained in detail how wonderful campus life is at University of Tsukuba and engaged visitors in friendly conversation.

University of Berlin:(Tsukuba graduate)

The “Study Japan! Fair 2014 in Berlin” was held again at the Japan-German center on January 30. Waseda University and the Embassy of Japan in Germany hosted the fair. 24 Japanese Universities and organizations, including the University of Tsukuba, took part in the fair. Many visitors were interested in studying abroad in Japan. Among them were students from the Free University of Berlin, high school students etc.

Our staff talking with German visitors

Tsukuba staff caught the eyes of many German students by wearing purple and light blue Happi coats. Study fair goods, such as paper cranes containing candy, were also very popular.

At this fair, visitors asked eagerly about studying at University of Tsukuba. As a result, we were able to introduce our University as an attractive destination to young Germans who want to study abroad in Japan.
