

5th University of Bonn Study Abroad Fair

Opening address by University of Bonn
Vice President Müller

With at least five students from the University of Bonn (which takes the 181. place in the overall THE ranking of 2013-2014) studying in Tsukuba every year, the two universities have a very close relationship. Many German students who wish to pursue their studies at the University of Tsukuba as well as those who are generally interested in studying in Japan have visited our booth.

Venue of the Study Abroad Fair

On Wednesday, May 21, we attended the 5th University of Bonn Study Abroad Fair and introduced the University of Tsukuba. It was the fourth time for Bonn Office to participate. A total of 38 organizations attended,, including the University of Bonn International Office and the DAAD (German Academic Exchange Service). More than 400 students who are considering studying abroad have visited the fair and made the event a huge success.

Many of the visitors showed a high interest in our university owing to its proximity to Tokyo, its affordable dormitories, and the German-Japanese get-together called "Baumkuchen Treffen."

At this year's Study Abroad Fair we were able to present the University of Tsukuba as an attractive destination for studying in Japan.
