

「Study Japan! Fair 2013 in Berlin」

【18th of Jan. 2013 @ Study Japan! Fair 2013 in Berlin】

Delegates from the University of Tsukuba consisting of employees, German speaking students, and former exchange students gave introductions about our university and answered questions from German students in our booth.

Our students, who are close in age, with German students who visited the fair explained campus life at the University of Tsukuba in more concrete terms and had the latter's undivided attention.

(The picture on the right is our booth.)

The 「Study Japan! Fair 2013 in Berlin」 was held at the Japan-German Center Berlin. About 20 Japanese universities and organizations including the University of Tsukuba, Waseda University which hosted the fair, and the Embassy of Japan in Germany took part in the fair.

Over 200 German students planning to study in Japan visited the fair on this day. The event was highly successful. The picture on the left is a performance of Japanese drums in the opening ceremony.

Delegates wearing clear aqua and purple Japanese jackets got a lot of attention from the German students. And the latter enjoyed our latest novelty goods, a folded-paper crane with a piece of candy.

About 80 German students visited our booth and our current and former German speaking students were able to introduce our university effectively.

The picture on the left shows the booths of other universities.